

Expect Quality

if you are looking for high motivated employees, with Aviation Screening you have found the right partner.

Selection and hiring employees in the aviation business is crucial in aviation unless you expect no quality.

The employee need not only fit into the company or be a good aviator, they should also be amiable to your customers.

Pilot's selection

Today's safety desire require a higher level of recruiting expertise.

The selection of Air Crews is a very sensitive business. Pilots and Cabin Crews of VIP business aircraft have to bring along a special attitude.

It is our passion to fulfill you with the best available service and outstanding attendance. Therefor we attach our importance to our clients, with the highest priority.

You want to hire the most accomplished pilots and most accomodating cabin cres for your VIP business aircraft clientele.

Our core business ist the procurement and selection of air crew personnel. Select from our growing database of pre-screened cabin and cockpit candidates or invite us to conduct an interview or full assessment of your own pre-selected candidates.

Your advantages:

- complete processing and handling of job advertisements and applications
- Reduction of HR costs
- Less administrative overhead, which means:
- no more editing of hundreds of applications in an excel sheet
- no more postage fees for returning applications
- no more time-consuming work for reading every application
- relief of your employees
- motivated staff which stays longer term

In consultation with your HR department we establish staffing goals and manage candidate recruitment, applications, and interviews. We present you with the best qualified candidates and you perform the last interview.

Your passengers and aircraft owners expect outstanding service. We help you find the people to make it happen.
